--- NOTES FROM CANADA ---

Jon Pearkins jon@pearkins.com

Andy Reid, author of canadianradiodirectory.com, has agreed to provide this column directly with the information that he had been providing for the late Dan Sys' Canadian Radio News posts in radiowest.ca. Thank you, Andy!

Although no longer on AM, CKUA has FM transmitters all over the province of Alberta. Last April, the station announced that they would need $3 million by the end of September to survive. $2.5 million in donations came in and management found ways to save half a million dollars in fairly drastic ways, like abandoning preventative maintenance on the 16 FM transmitters, and only acting after a transmitter goes off the air. The Fall Fund Raiser in October has raised three quarters of their one million dollar goal as of October 25.

630 CHQT AB Edmonton – Wikipedia, with no information source listed, claims that November 10 will be the last day of broadcasting on 630. Their "CHED has moved to 880" announcements add that the transmitter will be shut down permanently immediately after. Wikipedia writes: "CHQT was an AM commercial radio station licensed to Edmonton, Alberta, and operated as an all-news radio station at 880 kHz from 2008 to mid-2024, when it converted to a rebroadcaster of sister station CHED. CHED and CHQT traded frequencies on October 9, 2024 with CHED's programming relocating permanently to 880 while CHQT moved to CHED's former frequency of 630 kHz and broadcast looped announcements advising listeners to 'reset your preset' to 880. The looped announcements will continue until November 10, at which point CHQT will go silent."

--- U.S. STATION NEWS ---

Thanks to the reminder from Terry Krueger that the current power outage across Cuba means many of their stations would be off the air, leaving those channels clean of usual interference. So those of you who are bothered by those Cubans may reap the opportunity to DX on those frequencies.

- 1310 KKZI CA Barstow – 10/24 1530 – This station was reported to be changing to a Sports format in August, but when we drove through Barstow today they were still running tourist information for drivers heading to Las Vegas on I-15. (TRH-CA)
- 1450 KQTE CA Helendale – 10/24 1430 – Supposedly back on the air with 760 Watts, but they were silent as we drove through their coverage area today. (TRH-CA)

--- UNID AND ASSUMED ---

- 640+ unID – 10/20 0124 – With Progreso absent, who's the persistent het a little above the fundamental? Domestic or foreign? (TK-FL)
- 700 unID - 10/23 0248-0250 – Mostly alone in null of normally unnullable CJLI. Running ESPN. KXRK and KALL are the only ESPN affiliates on 700 and both, even on their night patterns, were regulars with WLW, before CJLI first signed on. (JP-AB)
- 900 KJSK NE Columbus – John Rieger's unID VSiN station in issue 92-03 seems to be KJSK. They were all over my recordings last year, but I never caught an ID during the actual VSiN programming. (TRH-CA)
- 1050 unID -10/24 0105-0106 – Heard The BeeGees 'Night Fever' under a talk show. The talk show could not have been KCAA Redlands. Where is this unID station with music airing from? (RA-CA)
- 1110 unID – 10/23 0055 – With a talk show, attempting to overtake KWVE. Did not hear any Call ID. Where is this from? (RA-CA2) [My only guess would be KFAB Omaha, with their night pattern's 50 kW sending significant signal your way – BH]
- 1420 KGIM SD Aberdeen – 10/28 0934 – Dan Patrick chatter. No KTOE / WOC / others. Poor and Assumed. (JJR-MI)

--- DX LOGGINGS ---

- 540 WXYG MN Sauk Rapids – 10/28 0914 – "... paid for by the DFL House Caucus," "The Goat: Like us on Facebook. Poor, but no CBK. (JJR-MI)
- 540 KNMX NM Las Vegas – 10/23 2234 – Momentarily on top of CBK Watrous SK with excellent signal before fading in and out. Ranchero music. English ID at 2335 back to music. Back up at 2249 for a moment. Relog. (LB-CO)
- 540 CBK SK Watrous – 10/23 2250 – Discussion of wetlands's preservation. 2300 ID " This is CBC Radio 1, 102 five FM in Regina, 540 AM across the province" Into CBC News. Recorded. Relog. (LB-CO)
- 550 KTRS MO St. Louis – 10/22 0549 – "KTRS" ID, then talk about a "friend at the University of Missouri-St. Louis." Strong with fading. So far, all five St. Louis stations in my log actually transmit from Illinois soil. (EB-AL) [Back in the day of building transmitter sites where the signal would cover the intended area, 'soil' was more affordable and available in Illinois than that in Missouri. This is/was especially the case of stations utilizing multiple tower arrays. – BH]
- 560 WHBQ TN Memphis – 10/22 0522 – ID as "Sports 56 mornings," and "98.5 FM FoxSports.com." Strong with fading. (EB-AL)
- 560 KLVI TX Beaumont – 10/22 0524 – Nulling WHBQ, I found 'America in the Morning,' soon into ads for 'All State' and a locally owned business in Orange, Texas. ID as "iHeart Newstalk 5-60 KLVI – Depend on us," and back to 'America in the Morning.' Strong with fading. New, for #13 from the Lone Star State's eastern border. (EB-AL)
- 570 CKGL ON Kitchener – 10/31 0807 – Poor, with road closures in Kitchener, then lost to WNAX. (JJR-MI)

- 620 WHEN NY Syracuse – 10/27 0735 – Very poor, thru WTMJ's Poen Carrier, with Sunday Morning Black GOS programming, // stream. Nice! (JJR-WI)

- 620 WKHB PA Irwin – 10/31 0737 – “KHB” between OLDies by Seales & Crofts and Huey Lewis. Poor, with WTMJ nulled. (JJR-MI)
- 630 KYFI MO St. Louis – 10/20 0550 – Beautiful singing that at first sounded like rare classical, then a hymn and a prayer for your neighbors made me check their webstream, which was a match. Another St. Louis station that built its antenna tower east of the Mississippi in Illinois. (EB-AL)

- 1700 KBGG IA Des Moines – 10/22 0900 – A good day for Iowa long after sunrise, heard with the Infinity Sports Network, fair with fading. As both are Non-Directional with 10 kW, I’m wondering why this is not as strong as KCNZ-1650. New, for Iowa #05. (EB-AL) [We could go into a long discussion on this, but the difference in signal quality between these two stations that are close in distance from you probably has something to do with the fact that there is an ideal length (height) of their antennas. Remember, KCNZ-1650 began life at 1250 kHz and KBGG at 1390 kHz. I don’t know, but one or both stations ‘may be’ using one of their old towers. Then there is the angle at which their signals bounce off the ionosphere at night. KCNZ’s tower is 108.9 meters (at 1650 kHz = electrical height of 215.6 meters) and KBGG-1700’s tower is only 61 meters (at 1700 kHz = electrical height of 124.4 meters).

Unreported Stations

Two more stations – the newly changed frequency for WJTO-750 and WKCB-1340 – were reported to DDXD in this issue for the first time since at least Volume 67 (1999-2000). We now have only 164 currently licensed, full-power AM stations in the United States and Canada which have not been reported to DDXD during this time. The last full list was published in issue 91-18 in July and electronically in DXtra News in September.

TRANS-ATLANTIC DX

- 1089 UNITED KINGDOM TalkSport synchros OCT 27 0300 – Fair; ad string, "We're BetMGM Sports and Casino..." [Conti-NH]

PAN-AMERICAN DX

- 530 CUBA CMBQ R.Enciclopedia, Villa María OCT 22 0300-0304 – Only second time heard since early April despite checking several times almost every night. Regular minute at top of the hour with usual female announcer talking with short musical bridges in between, then back to relaxing instrumentals in the elevator music genre. Barely audible audio at full volume on Qodosen SR-286 and Sangean PR-D15, but quite loud on Superadio II with heavy high frequency noise when tone set to middle setting. Heard again OCT 26 0505 just strong enough to be listenable on SR-286. [Pearkins-AB]
- 530 CUBA R.Rebelde, Guantánamo OCT 25 1001 – Weak but in the clear, this is the first time I heard Rebelde here with R.Enciclopedia off. "Informativo de la radio cubana" and ID "Ritmo de la vida, Rrrradio Rrrebelde." Parallel channels heard: 670 strong, multiples on 1180 all weak with echo, 710 fair with heavy interference, 5025 strong today with good audio. [Bierwirth-AL]
- 540 MEXICO XEWA Los 40, San Luís Potosí, SLP OCT 22 0938 – English and Spanish rock music, talk about Taylor Swift, ID "Los Cuarenta" between songs. Strong in the peaks. [Bierwirth-AL] OCT 23 0637 – Usual Mexican top 40 music with female singer in Spanish, with antenna south to completely null CBK Watrous, tipping me off to a great night for the northwest quadrant of Mexico, which meant no 1570 XERF Cd. Acuña, or 1050 XEG Monterrey. [Pearkins-AB]
- 570 COLOMBIA HJND R.Nacional de Colombia, Bogotá OCT 25 1031 – Announcements by female followed by R.Nacional de Colombia ID. Very good signal. [Beu-TX]

- 640+ unID OCT 20 0524 – With R.Progreso absent, who's the persistent het a little above the fundamental? Domestic or foreign? [Krueger-FL]
- 660 MEXICO XECPR Felipe Carrillo Puerto, Q.Roo. OCT 20 0925 – Mexican music, ID "Radio Chan Santa Cruz" clearly heard, fair signal. [Bierwirth-AL]
- 690 MEXICO XEN El Fonógrafo, México, CMDX OCT 12 1100 – "El Fonógrafo, música ligada tu recuerdo." [Coniglio-NY]
- 690 MEXICO XEWW Rosarito, BC OCT 23 0638 – Spanish phone-in program. All alone while nulling a weak CBU Vancouver, with no sign of CBKF-1 Gravelbourg SK. Rare here. [Pearkins-AB]

- 800 BONAIRE PJB, TWR, Kralendijk OCT 22 0252-0259 – Completely eliminating CHAB Moose Jaw when even the small SR-286 ferrite rod antenna was pointed directly at Bonaire. Music sounded like modern Christian with male vocalist but singing was not clear enough to be sure it was Spanish. First time heard here in several years though I do not often check for DX before 0300 when PJB changes directional patterns. [Pearkins-AB]
- 800 MEXICO XEERG, RG la Deportiva, Ojo de Agua, NL OCT 20 1105 – Rock music, IDs "RG La Deportiva." Strong in peaks but fading in and out. The audio was ok whenever the signal was strong; but whenever it faded down, the distortions in the audio signal became stronger and stronger. When another station was on top, what remained was mostly a warble almost like a jammer. [Bierwirth-AL] OCT 30 0658 – Still heavy distorted interference from XEERG to nearby KQCV. NOV 3 0700 – Distorted noise atop KQCV, the worst heard yet, maybe with auroral enhancement. The huge het upon 740 KRMG from XEQN on the minus side is also worse than usual. [Hauser-OK]

- 830 MEXICO XEITE Lokura Radio, México, CMDX OCT 20 1038 – English pop music such as Sleeping Satellite, ID "Lokura 830." Parallel webstream. Very weak but mostly in the clear. - 960 CUBA R.Reloj, Guantánamo OCT 13 0600 – A new Reloj frequency for me! [Coniglio-NY]
- 970 MEXICO XERFR R.Fórmula, México, CMDX OCT 12 1100 – R.Fórmula and lots of talk after jazzy type song but no legal ID, "Grupo Fórmula." [Coniglio-NY]
- 990 MEXICO XET La T Grande, Monterrey, NL OCT 31 0938-0944 – Much stronger than CBW and all alone with antenna pointing south but faded out at 0944 UTC. Male vocal ranchero music. Assumed to be XET because XEG was so strong at the same time. [Pearkins-AB]
- 990 MEXICO XECL Mexicali, BC OCT 23 0642 – Spanish male singer in CBW Winnipeg null. Assumed during a DX opening to the northwest quadrant of Mexico, with no signs of XERF or XEG. [Pearkins-AB]

- 1000 MEXICO XEOY Stereo Cien, México, CMDX OCT 20 0835 – 'Free As A Bird' fake Beatles song, male with slogan, into Pat Benatar. [Krueger-FL]
- 1040 CUBA R.Mayabeque, Güines OCT 24 0640 – "Whooper" interference vs WHO, a typical Cuban defect. [Hauser-OK]
- 1050 MEXICO XEG Monterrey, NL OCT 31 0937 – Very strong with political speech in Spanish by male speaker and no sign of nearby CJNB. [Pearkins-AB]
- 1060 CUBA Radio 26, Jovellanos OCT 25 0401 – Under KYW; time marker, choral national anthem. [Conti-NH]
- 1090 MEXICO XEPRS Rosarito, BC OCT 23 0641 – Spanish male talk all alone with no sign of KPTR Seattle or KBOZ Bozeman. Not heard here since KBOZ came back on the air a few years ago. [Pearkins-AB]
- 1110 MEXICO XERED Radio Red, México, CMDX OCT 14 1103 – Very strong with WBT weak, Aerosmith "Dream On" into legal ID, then the Doors "Riders on the Auroral Storm." [Coniglio-NY]
- 1140 CUBA R.Rebelde synchros OCT 26 1000 – Over/under CBI and WRVA; parallel 530, 670, 710, 1180, and 1620 kHz. [Conti-NH]
- 1141 unID NOV 1 0800 – Loud het against 1140 WRVA. By 1000 UTC, barely above the noise floor but still there. NOV 3 0000 – Het against 1140 WRVA and CBI. Roy Barstow via RealDX reported receiving the 1141 kHz signal during the electricity blackout in Cuba, so this widely received offset frequency signal apparently isn't Cuba as had been previously presumed. Not from 1140 WQBA which is found on frequency via the Boca Raton KiwiSDR. Not 1140 WVVO Viva FM on frequency via the Melbourne SDR. 1140 ZP22 Central Radio strong and on frequency via Paraguay SDR. Nothing on 1140 or 1141 daytime via Bonaire SDR, only a strong YVRL R.Ideal signal on 1130 kHz. Ecuador SDR not connecting. Colombia, Peru, and Puerto Rico would be logical suspects if not Cuba. [Conti-NH]

- 1420

MEXICO XEXX Tijuana, BC OCT 19 1301 – Long anthem in progress; apparent ID at 1304, too poor to copy. Presumed, based on anthem time (6 a.m. in Tijuana) and loop direction. This one is tough to ID, even with better conditions. [Wilkins-CO]
- 1470

MEXICO XERCN, RASA 1470, Tijuana, BC OCT 18 1201 – Long version of national anthem, followed at 1204 for an ID not for XERCN but for 1220 XEB, full ID with references to IMER, etc.; chat followed but not much copiable due to poor conditions. Noted later, around 1315 UTC, with music and the usual "RASA Catorce Setenta" ID's. Checked on subsequent days to see if the XEB relay is a regular feature but unable to tell due to poor conditions/high solar activity. [Wilkins-CO]
- 1540

BAHAMAS ZNS1 Nassau OCT 15 0230 – Parallel to web stream, in weakened KXEL nulls; Caribbean remakes of adult contemporary music. [Coniglio-NY]
- 1570

MEXICO XERF La Poderosa, Cd. Acuña, Coah. OCT 30 0342-0348 – Sometimes mixing with another station with male English talk, in the same antenna direction, presumably KBCV. Music was a Mexican equivalent of adult contemporary with male singers in Spanish and some short breaks in Spanish. Significantly better on Superadio II than Qodosen SR-286. I go years without hearing XERF, but heard a few times previously in 2024. [Pearkins-AB]

Over this past week I bought both the XHDATA D-808 and the new Qodosen DX-286 radios and I already had the CCrane Skywave Version C5F-14 and the older version of the CCrane Skywave SSB. I've only had the XHDATA and Qodosen radios only a matter of hours but I've had some fun testing all of the radios on the AM bands. I find the only major differences between the CCrane Skywave and the single sideband version is the difference in the SSB operation I cannot tell and major changes in the way the two radios operate other than the placement of where all of the controls are on both sets and that fact that one radio has the SSB added to it. Essentially I find them almost equal in performance but you're paying a double price of the single sideband feature.

I bought the XHDATA D-808 to replace my ailing Eton radio and my Grundig YB-400 which works well on FM but the AM section went dead.

Here are my first impressions of the two new radios. The Qodosen DX-286 is overwhelming to say the least. This is much to much to remember to do with the set. I am certain that there are a lot of "hidden" features to this radio that most likely I'll never be able to discover. Both the XHDATA D-808 and the Qodosen DX-286 work very well on all bands. The CCrane radios have a distinct advantage because they both can operate with an AC charger and regular store bought batteries and both have the Weather band which I consider very useful. The best radio manuals come from CCrane and Qodosen but the XHDATA D-808 manual is written in very small print and I find that very hard to follow.

I was delighted to learn that both radios pickup up many weak AM stations. My CCrane Skywave had slightly less background noise but in my opinion the Qodosen DX-286 has a better sounding speaker. The XHDATA D-808 works well on all bands but if I had to choose on which radio I would use on a trip I would still take the CCrane Skywave because of the simplicity of the unit and the fact that the radio performs as well as the other radios but uses normal batteries and can be used with electricity and you aren't losing anything on performance. I will surely be doing more testing of all of these radios and I'm certain I'll find more interesting facts along the way.

During the major Florida hurricane season I've been monitoring 690 kHz. for radio station WOKV-AM in Jacksonville, Florida but I've noted that they have not been on the air with an STA to help residents of Florida with hurricane needs. In the past they have been on the air with their daytime non-directional 50 kW signal at night during the hurricane season. Normally they are a two site operation with a six tower highly directional east signal with 25 kW at night.

"As of 10 October 2024, 2300 UTC, WWVB is operating at full power" from the nist.gov web site. WWVB Fort Collins, Colorado, operates on 60 KHz, below the standard Long Wave band, providing the synchronization information for millions of devices in the U.S. and Canada, such as watches, clocks and weather stations, typically marketed as Atomic Clocks. WWVB uses a pair of antennas that are combined to produce an "effective radiated power of 70 kW." One of those antennas was severely damaged in a wind storm but has now been repaired or replaced.

It has been 51 years since I last had more Foreign than Domestic DX in a given week. Two nights in a row of unusual conditions. First, PJB-800 and CMBQ-530 for the first time in a long time. Then, the North West Quadrant of Mexico the next night. Which is odd since Mexican Radio is the subject of the book review that follows, written several weeks ago. As for 51 years ago, in Autumn 1973, it was my last DX session in Vancouver. Mostly foreign catches but the highlight was domestic: a tentative CBH-860 Halifax under CJBC-860

Toronto; I even recognized the CBC announcer's voice on CBH but did not hear an ID. Atlantic Canada was the holy grail of West Coast DXers back then.

Refreshing to read yet another account of the superpower, mostly English language, border blaster XER and its successor, 500KW XERA, with their transmitters near where XERF-1570 is now located, because this book explains what has been neglected in other accounts: the goings on within the Mexican government, both for and against XER and XERA. The Queen of the Air was written by Dr. Jose Luis Ortiz Garza, a Mexican media historian. As with other accounts of the stations, there are obvious mistakes in the book but they cannot detract from the new information provided. It is available on Amazon. My copy was printed by Amazon in Acheson, just 20 miles from my home.

I just returned from a week in CO where, using the Airspy Discovery HF and You Loop, I made IQ recordings around the top of the hour and on the half hour each night. I've only had time to go over a few night's recordings but I've already discovered 16 domestic stations and one Mexican I hadn't heard before. The RealDX group online has been very helpful ID Spanish language stations and the online Canada/US AM Station Info Search page at <http://www.amdxer.com/ambc/> has been an invaluable tool.

I intended to participate in the Zoom session on the SDR# AM Co-channel Cancellor but "grandparent duty" got in the way. I watched the recording and found the discussion informative. Thanks to David Yocis for setting up and leading it. I'm looking forward for future Zoom sessions on this and other topics. See you in 2 weeks!

Henry Epp, Marketplace (Nov. 4, 2024)

It’s easy to forget that after Tuesday’s election, there will still be a lame duck session of Congress. At the top of lawmakers’ agenda: funding the government. The current spending bill expires on Dec. 20.

But they could also take up a less pressing measure working its way through Congress that has attracted a lot of bipartisan support, the AM Radio for Every Vehicle Act.

As its title suggests, the bill would require carmakers to include AM radio receivers in all new vehicles in the United States. And it's put two industries at odds: carmakers versus broadcasters.

Some car companies, including BMW, Tesla and Volvo, have dropped AM receivers from their models. The broadcast industry worries that others could follow suit, which could hurt AM stations around the country.

Some small AM stations still serve as hubs of community connection, like WJOY, which reaches just a few counties around Burlington, Vermont. It plays mostly "easy listening" music, and the only live DJ is Ginny McGehee, who hosts "The Breakfast Table" every weekday from 6 to 10 a.m. in a studio lined with pictures and mementos from her 40-plus-year career.

"Temperatures outside are 57 degrees in Burlington, 55 in Plattsburgh, and we have winds blowing into the 20s or so," McGehee announced into her microphone on a recent morning.

From there, she gives updates on weather, traffic and news and plays pretty much any music she feels like. She also takes calls from listeners, many of whom she knows by name.

"I bet this is going to be Jeanette," McGehee said when the studio phone lit up. Sure enough: "Hi Jeanette, how are you?" she exclaimed a few seconds later.

Jeanette was calling in with her guess for the game McGehee plays every Wednesday. She plays a short snippet of a song, and if listeners can guess the artist or title, they get to pick one of the numbers for McGehee's lottery ticket that day. ("Have we won much money? No," McGehee laughed.)

Jeanette's guess was correct: "Ballerina" by Nat King Cole. She picked 16 for McGehee's Mega Millions ticket.

This kind of show is an endangered species in the radio world, especially on AM, which is now dominated by a few formats.

"If you're interested in political talk, if you're interested in sports talk, if you're interested in religious radio, then that's often where you're going to find people who are really interested in AM," said Michael Stamm, a professor of history at Michigan State University.

AM radio was once the dominant medium for everything. Before FM and TV came around, it was broadcasting. And despite the plethora of other media options out there, AM still has a dedicated audience. According to Nielsen, the ratings company, 82 million people listen to it at least once per month.

"Eighty-two million Americans are telling you they continue to value AM radio, and that's not even accounting for the enhanced need in those times of public emergency," said Curtis LeGeyt, president and CEO of the National Association of Broadcasters. His group is lobbying for the bipartisan effort in Congress.

The Senate version of the bill has co-sponsors ranging from Republican Ted Cruz of Texas to independent Bernie Sanders of Vermont.

LeGeyt argued that AM stations are a crucial link in the Emergency Alert System, and after a disaster, they're often on the air when cell service and electrical power go out.

"Consumers principally access radio in the automobile," he said. "So, without that connectivity, you're leaving consumers in the dark, literally."

The automotive and tech industries don't buy this.

"This is nothing but a bailout for panicked AM radio broadcasters who [are] seeing their declining audiences as people shift to streaming audio, to other things that they really value," said Gary Shapiro, CEO of the Consumer Technology Association.

Shapiro and others also say electric vehicles interfere with AM signals, though an independent study found that issue could be fixed for about $70 per vehicle. Opponents also argue there are plenty of ways for people to get emergency alerts, including FM radio. Plus, they say it interferes with the free market.

"Forcing it on everyone is unprecedented in the history of consumer electronics," Shapiro said.

Beyond the special interest fight, Matthew Jordan, a professor of media studies at Penn State, sees an opportunity. If Congress mandates AM in cars, he said, lawmakers could at the same time push stations to get back to a principle he said many have strayed from: serving the public interest.

"In the early days, those were the justifications for radio," Jordan said. "It was a medium where you could get farm reports, weather reports, all these things that were of public interest."

That kind of programming isn't completely gone from AM. A little after 8 a.m. at McGehee's WJOY studio, a colleague popped in from the FM studio across the hall to tell her about an accident on the local interstate.

A couple of minutes later, McGehee was live on the air with the news.

"Just got word from my buddy Jon across the hall that there's been a tractor-trailer and two cars crashing on the interstate southbound on I-89, and that the bridge is closed," she announced.

Some listeners certainly heard about the crash from McGehee on the AM radios in their cars. That's still possible, for now.
